

ACADIA

UNIVERSITY

Located in the town of Wolfville, NS, Acadia University is recognized as one of Canada's premier undergraduate institutions. Founded in 1838, it is one of Canada's oldest and most respected universities and offers a liberal arts education that is unique among post-secondary institutions. Academic innovation and a technology-rich teaching and learning environment have garnered the university a reputation for excellence.

Faculty of Pure and Applied Science Department of Psychology Assistant Professor

Position # 21108: The Department of Psychology invites applications for a tenure-track position in Clinical Psychology at the Assistant Professor level, to commence July 1, 2018. Candidates should have a Ph.D., be registered or eligible for registration with the Nova Scotia Board of Examiners in Psychology, and have an established or developing research program. The candidate will be expected to teach graduate courses in psychotherapy as well as some combination of abnormal psychology, clinical psychology, and theories of psychotherapy at the undergraduate level, or clinical assessment and ethical decision making at the graduate level. The ability to teach qualitative and/or quantitative research methods will be considered an asset.

Acadia is a predominantly undergraduate university with a large enrolment in psychology and specialized options in applied psychology and neuroscience. Background or interests in an area of applied psychology (e.g., health, education, I/O, forensics, sports, etc.), although not required, will be considered an asset. The Department also offers a Master's of Science degree in clinical psychology. Faculty members maintain active research programs involving both undergraduate and graduate student supervision.

Apply by sending a letter describing research, teaching, and clinical experience, evidence of teaching effectiveness or potential, a curriculum vitae, and arrange for three letters of reference, one of which must comment on clinical related expertise, to be sent to:
