

Become a Tutor

Being a tutor can be a very rewarding experience. You'll develop instructional and interpersonal skills that are highly transferable to future roles. You'll choose your own hours and work in a way that fits with your own studies.

If you are interested in becoming a tutor, please email the Tutoring Services Coordinator, Elisabeth Frost, at tutoring@acadiau.ca for further information on how to apply.

Requirements

- You should have completed all courses you wish to tutor with an A- or higher.
- Your overall grade point average is also considered.
- You will need a reference, ideally from an Acadia professor who can speak to both your academic abilities and tutoring aptitude.
